Why no score guarantee? Guarantees are dishonest! Some tests are harder than others, and many students perform poorly at first. We can simply give our hardest test as a diagnostic, for a low baseline. For example, in 2017, one of our boot camp students went from a 960, on his first SAT diagnostic, to a 1520 on the actual exam. That's 560 points in growth! However, on his second practice test, he earned a 1240, a more-realistic baseline. 280 points of actual growth, from 1240 to 1520, is impressive, but us claiming 560 points is dishonest. Growth is directly connected to a student's dedication, and growing 100-200 points is realistic for most students.
